Course Goals or Overview: The goals of this course are as follows -
1	To become familiar with major theory and research on gender and communication.
2	To understand themselves and their identity as gendered.
3	To evaluate how gender influences communicative behavior.
4	To consider how gender is affected by broader social phenomena and factors such as race, class, culture, nation, and sexual orientation.
5	To understand the impact of gender on the way social, political, religious and other systems are organized and have been challenged.
Learning Objectives/Outcomes: At the end of this course, students will be able to:
1	Explain specific gender theories and how those theories can be seen and/or applied in their own lives as gendered people.
2	Identify specific ways that gender influences how they communicate in their relationships and in society as a whole.
3	Evaluate the social phenomena and other identity factors that have constructed them as gendered subjects and to consider ways their gendered performances privilege and/or oppress them in society.

Course Evaluation Methods

This course will utilize the following instruments to determine student grades and proficiency of the learning outcomes for the course.

1. Participation and In-Class Exercises (150 points): Small assignments consisting of in-class exercises, small group exercises, and discussion groups make up your participation grade in this class. We will have a variety of these, as part of an active class. Missing more than a few class meetings is dangerous to your grade. Participation credit is awarded daily and CANNOT be made up, even with an excused absence. You must be in class on the day we complete exercises. Failure to appear in class will result in a participation grade of 0 for the day.
2. Journal Submission (150 points): At different points throughout the semester, you will be required to keep a 500-600-word journal for the week's readings. Journals will be assigned periodically throughout the semester and the topics for week will be announced during class. The questions are designed to make you think critically about the readings and your own understanding of gender. You will turn in your journal submission at the end of the assigned week.
3. Exams (150 points): There will be three exams during the course of the semester. Exams will open on the Friday in the schedule and close Sunday at 11:59 pm. This will allow you time to take the exam at a time that works best in your schedule. You will have 90 minutes to take the exam and questions may include, but not be limited to multiple choice, matching, and true/false questions.
4. Reflection Exercise (100 points): You will write an essay in which you answer the following questions:
 - a. What were the qualities of a real man in the subculture in which you grew up?
 - b. What were the qualities of a real woman in the subculture in which you grew up?
 - c. If you live in a different subculture now from the one in which you grew up, what are the qualities that make up a real man in your current subculture? If you live in the same subculture in which you grew up, identify the qualities of a real man in some other subculture you've observed or experienced.
 - d. If you live in a different subculture now from the one in which you grew up, what are the qualities that make up a real woman in your current subculture? If you live in the same subculture in which you grew up, identify the qualities of a real woman in some other subculture you've observed or experienced.
 - e. Would members of your current subculture consider you a real woman or a real man?
 - f. Drawing on your own belief system, your own experiences, and your own preferences and desires, what do you now believe are the qualities of a real man?
 - g. Drawing upon your own belief system, your own experiences, and your own preferences and desires, what do you now believe are the qualities of a real woman?
 - h. What gendered qualities do you regularly display or perform?
 - i. Are there any gendered qualities from some other culture that you would like to perform or own?
 - j. If you had to give your gender a label, what would it be? Why?

In this 4-page paper, you must demonstrate an understanding of concepts covered in the introductory class discussions. You should include a minimum of one paragraph devoted to answering each question.

5. Course Readings Facilitation (150 points): Working with a partner, you are required to conduct one in-class facilitation on a date selected by you and your partner based on the scheduled topic for your chosen date. For the facilitation, you will be required to present the concept as well as design and execute an exercise that will enhance the class's understanding of the day's lesson. The entire facilitation should be a minimum of 60 minutes in length. (You may have the full class time.) Sign-ups for this assignment will be done in the first two weeks of class.

For your in-class facilitation, you should come to class prepared to present concepts from the chapter you selected. You must integrate additional scholarly research outside of your chosen date's assigned readings. Be creative with your facilitation. Include visual elements such as video clips, songs, sound bites, written texts, etc. to help exhibit the concepts discussed in the day's lesson.

6. Gender in Popular Culture Analysis Paper (250 points): Working in a small group of 2-3 members, you will select a print advertisement(s), song(s), music video(s), television show(s), television commercial(s), or film for gender communication messages that may affect our communication and perceptions of self. You will write a 12-15-page paper analyzing the media text and applying theoretical concepts discussed in class. You must cite a minimum of 10 academic sources of support, to add depth and insight to your analysis. Your sources must consist of academic journal articles that review actual research on gender and/or communication, much like Fixmer-Oraiz and Wood's research overview in the textbook. Internet sources such as web pages unless used to access academic libraries, journals and research, are not acceptable sources. Although you are welcome to use the readings for this class for your paper, they do not count as outside sources. You will present your findings to the class at the conclusion of the semester.
7. Gender in Popular Culture Analysis Presentation (50 points): In addition to your paper, your group will deliver a 9-10-minute presentation on your analysis. Presentations may include examples from the popular culture artifact you analyzed. Video/audio clips should comprise no more than 2 minutes of your presentation. Please prepare and practice before delivering your presentation. Failure to do so will negatively impact your grade.

Extra Credit Opportunities

Extra credit is given at the discretion of the instructor. Please do not ask for it. You will know if it is offered or given.

PLEASE NOTE: Receiving extra credit means you do EXTRA work. If you fail to complete any assignment in the course, YOU WILL LOSE ALL EXTRA CREDIT. Evaluation is based upon the quality of work submitted. Simply submitting a completed assignment does not guarantee you will receive extra credit. You should apply the same effort on written extra credit work as you would on regular graded assignments.

Grading Matrix

Each of the following assignments will be detailed thoroughly on Canvas. Be sure to access Canvas frequently for assignment guidelines and other important class documents.

Participation and In-Class Exercises	150 points
Journal Submission	150 points
Examinations	150 points
Reflection Exercise	100 points
Course Readings Facilitation	150 points
Gender in Popular Culture Analysis Paper	250 points
Gender in Popular Culture Analysis Presentation	50 points
Total	1000 points

Your final grade is based on a total out of 1000 points.

900-1000 = A 800-899 = B 700-799 = C 600-699 = D 599 ↓ = F

Class Policies and Expectations

Active Learning

You are expected to take an active role in learning. If you are having trouble, come and see me – I will be glad to help. If there are things you do not understand, raise questions in class, as others may benefit from your inquiry. If you are hesitant to speak up in class, stop by after class or send me an email. I am here to assist in your learning, so do not hesitate if you need clarification or assistance.

Assignment Policy

Students are expected to read assigned material before class and participate actively in class. This includes engaging in class discussion and group exercises as well as taking notes on lecture material. It is your responsibility to know what is done in class and any changes in the syllabus even if you are absent.

Presentation Policies

Choose professionalism when delivering a presentation. No profanity or content of a graphic nature. PowerPoints/Prezis must be legible and visually appealing. Adhere to the following rule. A visual aid must contain 2 elements: 1) It must be visual, and 2) It must aid. Unprofessional presentation aids will negatively impact your grade. Dress appropriately and professionally for each of your presentations and do not interrupt your peers' presentations when you are an audience member.

Late Work Policy

I do not accept late written work. Any assigned work not submitted by the scheduled deadline will be considered late and receive a zero for failure to submit.

Exam Policy

Exams should be taken as scheduled. All students are allowed an extended date range for each exam. Please plan your schedule accordingly. No makeup examinations will be allowed except for documented emergencies (See Student Handbook).

Missing Class

To help you get information about any class that you miss, you can use the 'buddy system.' Choose two classmates as your buddies. Exchange contact information so that if you are absent, you can contact one or both of your buddies for notes, assignments, and announcements.

Buddy Name: _____

Buddy Name: _____

College-Level Reading, Writing, and Speaking Skills

College-level reading, writing, and speaking are expected. If your papers or presentations do not meet college standards, you may lose partial or full credit for them. If you need help correcting grammatical and word choice errors, I strongly advise you to contact The Writing Center in The Learning Commons for assistance.

In addition to specific requirements for each paper assignment, please note the following guidelines for all written work:

- All written assignments must be typed and include a title page.
- Format: Double-spaced, 12pt font, Times New Roman, 1" Margins, adhering to the APA Style Guide.
- All assignments must be submitted through Canvas before 11:59 pm the day they are due.

Proofread your written work for any grammatical errors or spelling mistakes. Grammar and spelling are considered in grading. Knowing how to write properly is an essential part of communication.

Grade Disputes

Grades will be discussed only during the instructor's office hours. Please do not ask grade questions during class time. If you have an issue with your grade, please wait 24 hours, but no later than 48 hours before submitting an email articulating your concern about your grade. Please include a reference to the work in question. This will give both the instructor and the student time to carefully review all the information. After 48 hours, your grade will not be changed.

Ethics and Integrity

Students are expected to complete their own original work, including but not limited to assigned work in class or at home, examinations, and research-based projects. It is academic dishonesty to use the ideas, data, or language of another without specific or proper acknowledgement. If you use ideas of others, regardless of who those individuals are (experts in their field, websites, friends from class, etc.), you must provide proper citation. Cheating, plagiarizing, fabrication of information or citations, facilitating acts of dishonesty by others, having unauthorized possession of examinations, submitting work of another person or work previously used without informing the instructor, tampering with the academic work of other students, use of Artificial Intelligence software to complete your work (unless explicitly permitted), or any other form of dishonesty will be dealt with severely. Students will be subjected to disciplinary action under university regulations.

Citizenship

This is a communication course and the very nature of the makeup of our community speaks to cultural diversity. Naturally, respectful language is at the core of a course such as this. Please be mindful of the language and terms you use when speaking and writing. Communication shapes the way in which we see the world and the words we use matter. Each of us is responsible for creating a positive learning environment. Respectful class participation includes contributing ideas that relate to the topic, asking questions to clarify understanding, responding thoughtfully when called upon, and giving respectful attention to the instructor and classmates. Good communication skills include listening carefully to diverse opinions, analyzing what is said, clearly stating opinions without personal put-downs, encouraging classmates, synthesizing new information, and applying it. Disrespectful communication includes interrupting or attacking others, monopolizing conversations, carrying on side conversations, and using personal technology for purposes other than classroom activity. A positive classroom environment improves learning for both the individual student and for the class as a whole.

Mobile Technology Policy

Although we are a class committed to evaluating social media, please make sure your use of mobile technology is relevant to class. If you find yourself tempted to use your technology for completing homework for other classes, surfing the Internet, or "playing" on social media, please TURN IT OFF AND PUT IT AWAY. It is disrespectful and distracts from community-building to use digital devices in class for any purpose other than class learning. If your digital device sounds off (rings, chirps, vibrates) in class, or if you are caught (by me or one of your peers) text messaging, surfing the internet, or listening to music through earphones, you will be asked to leave the class and will lose participation points for the day.

Social Media Policy

Although I do maintain a broad social media presence, including multiple blogs, TikTok, YouTube, Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn, Tumblr, Pinterest, Snapchat, Instagram, etc., if you use one of these platforms to contact me, I may not notice, and I definitely will not respond. Please note: I do not send or accept friend requests of current students through social media. If there is something you would like to share with me, please email me the link for your social media post or share it to our class chat using Microsoft Teams.

Drop/Withdrawal Policy

Withdrawing from a course is a formal procedure which YOU must initiate; I cannot do it for you. You may withdraw from a class in the Office of the Registrar. If you stop attending or are unable to complete this class and you do not withdraw before the official drop date, you will receive a performance grade, usually a grade of "F." Students sometimes drop a class when help is available that would enable them to continue. Please contact me if you feel you need to withdraw.

Reminders

- Grades cannot be based on effort. Professors cannot measure time or energy expended; only outcomes can be gauged. If you work hard at something and do not achieve the desired outcomes, a professor cannot give you the grade you want or the higher grade because of your effort.
- Grades cannot be assigned because a student needs/wants a particular grade. If you desire the A, you will need to fulfill the conditions needed to earn an A.
- Grades are based on announced standards. Therefore, consideration of grade fairness must center on the application of those standards to student work, instead of comparisons to other students' work.
- Generally, Professors are more experienced at assessing student work than the students themselves.
- Professors, on average, are objective and are not out to "nail" their students. Most professors want to give their students the highest grade possible and the benefit of the doubt.
- Students are entitled to emotional reactions to assessment of their work; however these expressions should occur in private, NOT public.
- Any discussion of grades should be impartial, unemotional, and characterized by mutual respect, courtesy, and professionalism.

University Policies and Procedures

Students with Disabilities (ADA Compliance): The University of North Texas at Dallas makes reasonable academic accommodations for students with disabilities. Students seeking accommodations must first register with the Disabilities Services Office (DSO) to verify their eligibility. If a disability is verified, the DSO will provide you with an accommodation letter to be delivered to faculty to begin a private discussion regarding your specific needs in a course. You may request accommodations at any time, however, DSO notices of accommodation should be provided as early as possible in the semester to avoid any delays in implementation. Note that a student must obtain a new letter of accommodation for every semester and must meet/communicate with each faculty member prior to implementation in each class. Students are strongly encouraged to deliver letters of accommodation during faculty office hours or by appointment. Faculty members have the authority to ask students to discuss such letter during their designated office hours to protect the privacy of the student. For additional information see the Disability Services Office website at <http://www.untdallas.edu/disability>. You may also contact them by phone at 972-338-1777; by email at UNTDdisability@untdallas.edu on the first floor of the Student Center.

Canvas Instructure Accessibility Statement: University of North Texas at Dallas is committed to ensuring that online and hybrid courses are usable by all students and faculty including those with disabilities. If you encounter any difficulties with technologies, please contact our ITSS Department. To better assist them, you would want to have the operating system, web browser and information on any assistive technology being used. The Canvas Instructure Accessibility Statement is provided at <https://www.canvaslms.com/accessibility>.

NOTE: Additional instructional technology tools, such as Turnitin, Respondus, Panopto, and publisher cartridge content (i.e. MyLab, Pearson, etc.) may NOT be fully ADA compliant. Please contact our Disability Office should you require additional assistance utilizing any of these tools.

Academic Integrity: Academic integrity is a hallmark of higher education. You are expected to abide by the University's code of Academic Integrity policy. Any person suspected of academic dishonesty (i.e., cheating or plagiarism) will be handled in accordance with the University's policies and procedures. Refer to the UNT Dallas Academic Integrity Policy in the appropriate Catalog at <http://dallascatalog.unt.edu>.

Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, cheating, plagiarizing, fabrication of information or citations, facilitating acts of dishonesty by others, having unauthorized possession of examinations, submitting work of another person or work previously used without informing the instructor, or tampering with the academic work of other students.

Web-based Plagiarism Detection: Please be aware in some courses, students may be required to submit written assignments to Turnitin, a web-based plagiarism detection service, or another method. If submitting to Turnitin, please remove your title page and other personal information.

Classroom Etiquette: Students are encouraged to contribute their perspectives and insights to class discussions. However, offensive & inappropriate language (swearing) and remarks offensive to others of particular nationalities, ethnic groups, sexual preferences, religious groups, genders, or other ascribed statuses will not be tolerated. Disruptions which violate the Code of Student's Rights, Responsibilities, and Conduct will be referred to the Dean of Students as the instructor deems appropriate (UNT Policy 7.001 found at <https://www.untDallas.edu/hr/upol>).

Classroom Disruption: Students are expected to engage with the instructor and other students in this class in a respectful and civil manner at all times to promote a classroom environment that is conducive to teaching and learning. Students who engage in disruptive behavior will be directed to leave the classroom. A student who is directed to leave class due to disruptive behavior is not permitted to return to class until the student meets with a representative from the Dean of Students Office. It is the student's responsibility to meet with the Dean of Students before class meets again and to provide the instructor confirmation of the meeting. A student who is directed to leave class will be assigned an unexcused absent for that class period and any other classes the student misses as a result of not meeting with the Dean of Students. The student is responsible for material missed during all absences and the instructor is not responsible for providing missed material. In addition, the student will be assigned a failing grade for assignments, quizzes or examinations missed and will not be allowed to make up the work.

The Code of Student's Rights, Responsibilities, and Conduct (UNT Policy 7.001 found at <https://www.untDallas.edu/hr/upol>) describes disruption as the obstructing or interfering with university functions or activity, including any behavior that interferes with students, faculty, or staff access to an appropriate educational environment. Examples of disruptive behavior that may result in a student being directed to leave the classroom include but are not limited to: failure to comply with reasonable directive of University officials, action or combination of actions that unreasonably interfere with, hinder, obstruct, or prevents the right of others to freely participate, threatening, assaulting, or causing harm to oneself or to another, uttering any words or performing any acts that cause physical injury, or threaten any individual, or interfere with any individual's rightful actions, and harassment. You are encouraged to read the Code of Student's Rights, Responsibilities, and Conduct for more information related to behaviors that could be considered disruptive.

Course Evaluations: Student's evaluations of teaching effectiveness is a requirement for all organized classes at UNT Dallas. This short survey will be made available to you at the end of the semester via your campus email, providing you a chance to comment on how this class is taught. I will not have access to the results of the evaluations until after final grades have posted. I am very interested in the feedback I get from students, as I work to continually improve my teaching. I consider students' evaluations to be an important part of your participation in this class.

Bad Weather Policy: Campus facilities will close and operations will be suspended when adverse weather and/or safety hazards exist on the UNTD campus or if travel to the campus is deemed dangerous as the result of ice, sleet or snow. In the event of a campus closure, the Marketing and Communication Department will report closure information to all appropriate major media by 7 a.m. That department will also update the UNTD website, Facebook and Twitter with closing information as soon as it is possible. For more information please refer to <http://www.untDallas.edu/police/resources/notifications>.

Inclement Weather and Online Classes: Online classes may or may not be affected by campus closures due to inclement weather. Unless otherwise notified by your instructor via e-mail, online messaging, or online announcement, students should assume that assignments are due as scheduled.

Technology Assistance: In order to successfully access the materials in Canvas, UNT Dallas advises that your computer be equipped with the minimum system requirements listed on the first page of the syllabus.

If you experience difficulty accessing or using components of the course, try using Google Chrome browser. If you still experience technical difficulties, first, notify your instructor.

If the problem is still not resolved, call Distance Learning at the phone number listed on the first page of the syllabus. Also, no matter what browser you use, always enable pop-ups.
